FALL BULB LIST

JAN 1 1934

FOREWORD

In these days one hears so much of drastic price reductions that often sight is lost of the necessity of quality maintenance. You may rest assured that while our prices have been greatly reduced from the level of former years, our usual HYDE QUALITY is being maintained.

Daffodils and Narcissus

Our Daffodils and Narcissus are sent to you as large double-nose bulbs, all of which will flower with more than one blossom. Free flowering varieties often throw four to six and more flowers from each bulb. These multi-flowering qualities are characteristic of certain varieties, rendering them peculiarly adaptable for woodland plantings, the cut-flower garden, and like purposes. We invite you to consult with us.

VARIETIES

The varieties in this list are but a few of the many hundreds available in the northern growing fields. You may be familiar with many varieties not here listed. Kindly inquire for prices, and we will be pleased to quote you.

PRICES

Prices in the following list are quoted post-paid to all California points. Remember that Daffodils and Narcissus bulbs are a permanent investment and if properly taken care of, and your stocks will constantly increase each year. Write for special prices for quantities of 500 or more.

Many of these listed bulbs are novelties limited in quantity. Early orders will insure more complete delivery.

NEW-YOUNG-BERRY
(LOGAN X GARDENA)

LARGER-RICHER-SWEETER
BEST FOR MARKET AND HOME GARDENS.

Four years of comparative tests at the Georgia Experiment Station show the Youngberry to be the earliest and heaviest yielding berry of this class. It is disease resistant, a rapid, strong grower and fruits the first season.

The large, luscious berries are rich, sweet and juicy yet firm with but few seeds. Delicious served fresh and also makes the finest of jelly and pies—gives great promise as a commercial berry.

Strong plants, postpaid within 3rd zone — Each 20c; 10, $1.50; 100, $9.00.
